

SHINe AGM 2008

Report of SHINe As A Legal Entity (Tock) Working Group

This year has been spent discussing the ramifications of a possible transfer to charitable status, and in particular, the effect such a move would have on the role of the Committee member. As a charity, Committee members would become 'Trustees' of the charity, a role with a slightly different set of obligations. Consequently, it has been decided that the new Committee for 2008 should take some time to explore the role of Committee member versus that of Trustee, as the greatest impact of the transition to charity will be felt by the Committee itself.

No doubt the Committee will act wisely in finally deciding on the future legal status of SHINe, and they will undoubtedly consult the membership on any future decisions which may have implications for them.
